

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FOR COUPLES THAT HAVE ALREADY HIRED A PHOTOGRAPHER FOR THEIR UPCOMING WEDDINGS IN DEC, JAN, FEB, AND MARCH 2011/12

If you've already chosen a specific photographer or studio to cover your wedding, (because of cost considerations, family preferences, or any other reason) you still have an opportunity to invite Judah S. Harris to be present to offer his unique visual portrayal of your marriage.

You're covered for the traditional photography, but couples seeking a more artistic and journalistic photographic experience will want much more than that: an awesome collection of wedding photographs that will amaze people and generate repeated "wows" from family and friends - now and in the years to come.

Judah S. Harris is one of the most celebrated and talked about photographers in the Jewish community, with a reputation that reaches deeply into the creative worlds of publishing, design, and advertising, both in the US and internationally. His photographic vision has been featured in leading visual arts magazines, on the Op-Ed Pages of The NYTimes, on the covers of more than 40 novels, and in museum and gallery exhibition.

In recent years, some established photo studios have promoted a new option for "photojournalistic style" wedding coverage, but couples with strong artistic appreciation realize that few can match the originality of true photojournalists who possess the remarkable ability to capture singular moments of life as they see it, each in their unique style.

You can have Judah S. Harris photograph at your wedding for one simple, low fee in the New York and New Jersey area (see below for additional options):
